

This architectural floor plan shows a long, narrow building with a curved left end. The building is divided into numerous rooms of varying sizes. A room at the curved end is highlighted in blue and labeled with the number '108'. The plan includes details such as doors, windows, and furniture like beds and desks. A small staircase is visible near the highlighted room.

