

This architectural floor plan shows a building with a prominent curved section. The curved portion contains several rooms, with one room at the bottom left highlighted in blue and labeled '301' in green. The rest of the plan is rendered in black and white, showing various room layouts, corridors, and structural elements. The building appears to have a complex, non-rectangular footprint.

